

Blankets of Love

Everyone loves their own blanket to cuddle up with when the weather gets colder. Yes it can be for homey comfort but for many of the Youth that will be receiving our blankets this will perhaps be the main thing that stands between them and a house that doesn't have heat.

Bring your blanket during the Month of October and place it around the Old Rugged Cross on Sunday October 27th we will bless these blankets and deliver them to our adopted School for SOS in 2024-2025 Miller Jordan Middle School.

It makes a difference in a crisis to be a part of the United Methodist Church. We unite as churches and with other partners in crisis situations around the world and in our own back yard.

Right now UMCOR has boots on the ground in those places that have been assaulted by the deluge of Hurricane Helene. By working with the United Methodist Conferences in those areas Emergency Teams have been sent in to help with the clean up and build back after a flood surge in some places of 20 feet.

UMCOR is there to give support both physical support with food and water, and also emotional support with the assurance they are not alone. And in the midst of that setting help to bring the spiritual love and compassion of Christ for those who are feeling hopeless.

Your October 2nd Mile Giving makes a difference right now and in the future relief that will be needed wherever disaster strikes.
